-  @moorthy Hi can u please tell the topics to be learned in crypto. Like what is the pathway to be taken.
- BloodgoodBTC 11/07/2021
Start with simple topics like support and resistance lines, trendlines, volume, etc. Then move to advanced topics. Read a lot about every topics. If you rather watch videos, do it on youtube.
-  @ChuloXchange Hi @BloodgoodBTC what's your view on shiba inu?
- BloodgoodBTC 11/07/2021
Good if you have very little money to start with and you want to make as much as possible in bull run. After bull run is over it will crash a lot. Like really a lot. It's also super volatile so be careful.
-  @papasnOrlax Hello Blood, thanks for taking your time once again. What do you recommend to do with profits? Turn p...
- BloodgoodBTC 11/07/2021
It really depends on what strategy you have at this point. i would suggest taking profits to BTC since we are in front of the 5th wave i which Bitcoin should dominate.

-  @annie Hi @BloodgoodBTC - is it possible to make same amount of profit during bear and bull market? (edited)
- BloodgoodBTC 11/07/2021
Of course. You can make best and most stressful money in a bear trend. Even major altcoins do a 10x minimum from a bear to a bull. So basically you need just few trades to make it. If you're asking for swing trading, that also. Easy.
-  @lszyoweh How to take profits when I'm investing for the long term?
- BloodgoodBTC 11/07/2021
I think i have made a tweet about this a few days ago. Average in and average OUT. You will never nail the top. Set longterm targets (reasonable) and slowly sell the pumps. You won't hit the top but you will keep the profits and you will have a good average
-  @Wathaifi_99 @BloodgoodBTC what do you think of IOTA and do u have any price targets for it or a chart
- BloodgoodBTC 11/07/2021
It's a dino coin and lost all of the community. I have no interest in IOTA at all. Would swap it into FTT if I were you.
-  4  18  4  1
-  @Jess D Is it advisable to sell 50%-80% of portfolio to prepare for bear market?
- BloodgoodBTC 11/07/2021
It all depends on how long are you willing to hold. If you believe in decentralization and the vision/mission behind it and can hold for couple of years there is no reason to do it.
- If you just want to make as much money as possible short term than yes, start averaging OUT.

 @kimberley @BloodgoodBTC hi blood, how would you invest if you had $30,000

 BloodgoodBTC 11/07/2021

Hi. Well depends if you want to go high or low risk. If that is your total capital i would go a lower risk strategy and invest 10k in Eth or BTC, 15k in major caps (top 40 coins) and 5k into lowcaps. But if you want to go high risk, you can chase kucoin gems with 20k of the capital and try to catch some 10x or 20x profits.

 BloodgoodBTC 11/07/2021

Don't hold BTC / altcoins for a year. Swap them in USDT in January, maybe February, we will see how long the bull will be, and stake USDT for a year, and then report a tax just for BTC / altcoin profits. But if you need a quick cash out, I can get you as much cash from crypto as you want for 7%. Just don't DM me please if the amount is under 100k, ty @Razvan Beiusanu I trade a lot so win a lot and i lose a lot. What am i missing ? What to do to improve ?

 BloodgoodBTC 11/07/2021

That's completely normal. Until I've done like 100 trades I didn't know what was I doing at all and it was basically gambling and luck.

Just keep at it and learn as much as possible. If you are not learning and practising for 2hours per day you won't get results quickly.

 @ripperlite Hi @BloodgoodBTC, when seeking out undervalued Low cap gems, are there any specific reliable info sources?

 BloodgoodBTC 11/07/2021

Seeking for undervalued gems is one of the hardest things in crypto. Many people get burned and are left with illiquid gems and are stuck with bags. I plan on releasing a guide that will help you understand my strategy. Basically, i read everything they have online (website, WP, token allocations, check the team & their reference etc). After i am done i join their chats and spam admins with questions and see how they react. This is just the first part, guide will include details, stay tuned.

 @papasn0rlax Blood, how do you prepare for a bear market? With other words whats your exit strategy for altcoins

 BloodgoodBTC 11/07/2021

As mentioned above, Average OUT you will not hit the top. I believe if you invested into altcoins at the beginning of summer you have amazing entries, meaning you are deep in profits. fib this moves and decide on your exit points and then start selling the pumps. When we have a crash you will want to have $ on the side to buy that dip and try to catch the dead cat bounce.

 @jaKoblorefice Tips for finding and possibly entering kucoin gems early before the big pumps?

 BloodgoodBTC 11/07/2021

Become good in fundamental research. There is plenty materials on how to do it. Also be on top of trends. Facebook rebranding to metaverse was clear indication that those coin will explode. Also you need to have good understanding of techology which is something that also compounds like money.

 @jaKoblorefice Tips for finding and possibly entering kucoin gems early before the big pumps?

 BloodgoodBTC 11/07/2021

Research. There is no short way here. Read whitepaper, roadmpat and token allocation. If it seems like smth a crypto needs and if the team doesnt have unlocked tokens go for it. You should also check for presale allocations and when do they unlock. Besides that, community is important. If there is big community behind the project it will pump sooner or later.

BloodgoodBTC 11/07/2021

Never increase your position if you are red. Especially if that was not your original plan. When i am planning to enter in a position, i always set invalidation point as well as my entry zone. When asset leaves my entry zone i never add to the position, even if it goes below the entry. If SL is hit i accept loss and move on. We cant catch all of them.

@marketmusician @BloodgoodBTC, what do you currently struggle with most when it comes to trading?

BloodgoodBTC 11/07/2021

Well nothing Tbh. My biggest struggle is to find proper gems that will moon quick, so my twitter fam won't be DM'ing me that they're in a loss after few tiny red candles. as per trading itself, my risk management is good, my emotions are zero (when it comes to my personal capital involved), so yes. Only struggle is to present quality calls for you guys. I'm a patient man. My longest position was BNB, were holding it for almost 4years. Among others.

So many similar questions about flipping coins from one to another. You NGMI with that if you are not a proper trader. Diversify your portfolio and stick with it. For example 30% BTC, 20%ETH, 10% FTT, 10% XLM, 10% NWC and other 20% split to some 5-10 trendy coins like NAKA, and that's it. Hard to explain, because I don't know you. Don't know how patient are you. What's your risk management. Or how good you spot the opportunity to swap everything to BTC and then close that position and enter to altcoins, ect. If you are a trader, than a portfolio isn't what you need to build in the first place. Just trade a chart, not an asset. And if you're an investor, then stop complicating your life and overtrade, but diversify the portfolio and stick to it.

Learn investing/spot trading first. Nowadays there are also plenty of options to do it kind of passively - farming, staking, lending, liquidity providing, nfts airdrop flipping.

The problem is not the opportunity but your work ethic.
